

This architectural floor plan shows a house with a red line tracing a path through the rooms. The path starts in the bottom-left room, moves right, then up through a series of rooms, and finally exits the top-right. The rooms include a large living area at the bottom, a kitchen area, a dining area, a living area with a fireplace, a bedroom, a bathroom, and a large living area at the top. The red line highlights a specific route through the house.
